

Energy Policy of SR Webatex GmbH

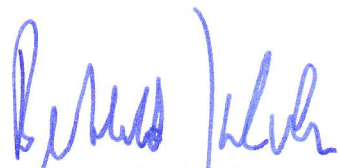

We, as SR Webatex GmbH, are committed to cut our energy consumption on a long-term basis and to increase our energy efficiency through a continuous improvement process.

In order to realise these objectives, we introduce an energy management system according to DIN EN 16001:2009 in the entire company and at all sites.

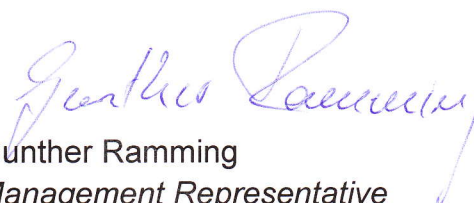

We ensure compliance with all requirements of this norm and continuous improvement with all processes within this energy management system.

- For this purpose, we will ensure availability of information and the necessary financial and structural means.
- Every employee will be integrated into the implementation and realization of the energy management system and responsibilities will be allocated.
- It will be ensured that relevant legal obligations and other requirements are considered and adhered to.
- Energy data and aspects are regularly established and reviewed.
- The efficiency and the results of the energy management system are regularly reviewed, updated and assessed.
